

Daily Democrat.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.

OFFICE—

South Side Green Street, two doors below the Customhouse.

SATURDAY, NOV. 26, 1864.

NOTICE TO CITY SUBSCRIBERS.
The Daily Democrat, delivered by carriers throughout the city, is at the rate of twenty-five cents per week, including the Sunday paper.

Important Notice.

Owing to the increased expense of every article used in the printing business, and an advance price of twenty-five per cent. on the expense of composition, we are compelled to increase the cost of the Daily Democrat. Hereafter the Daily, by mail, will be one dollar per month, or six dollars for six months, or ten dollars per year, always in advance.

CITY NEWS.

Adams Press for sale.

One of the largest sized Adams presses, in complete order, is offered for sale. It is as good as new and will be sold at a bargain, as we have no use for it. Apply at the Democrat office.

The Evening News.

We gave in the Evening News of yesterday a full list of the names drawn in the supplemental draft for Jefferson county's quota. It created a brisk demand for our paper. Thousands of copies were sold by the news boys, and up to a late hour last night the paper was still called for.

The "News" is served to all parts of the city by prompt and faithful carriers. All orders left at the clerk's desk or with the carriers themselves will receive due attention.

Frankfort Penitentiary Burnt.

The train from Frankfort reports that on Friday morning the Frankfort Penitentiary was burning, the fire having caught in the char factory, about eleven o'clock Thursday night. The grist mill and char factory, and much of the contents, were burnt, together with other property, amounting in all to fifty thousand dollars.

Two frame houses across the street were ignited by the fire, and one of them destroyed and the other considerably damaged.

Wood's THEATER—Benefit of S. T. Simons this afternoon. "Black Eyed Susan" and "All That Glitters is not Gold."

St. VINCENT'S FAIR.—The Masonic Temple was filled to overflowing on Thanksgiving night, and last night it was equally full of ladies, gentlemen, and children, all of whom were delighted with the exhibition and liberal in their contributions. A new feature has been added to the Fair; a telegraph line has been connected with the outer world, by which persons can telegraph to any point in the room, or any place where the wires run outside of it. There are other additional attractions, which have been added since the Fair began. As to-night is the last one of the Fair, we have no doubt that the house will be completely jammed. If it is not, we can truly say it should be, if not to go there and enjoy yourselves, go for the benefit of the little orphans, fill the house up to-night.

With the consent of the press of the city, the managers of the Telegraphic Department of the Fair have made arrangements with Mr. Tyler, the agent of the Associated Press, to furnish them with a condensed report of all the important news received from all parts of the country, between the hours of nine o'clock p.m. and twelve o'clock at midnight.

Mr. Joseph R. Heman, the telegraphic gold reporter, has volunteered to supply frequent reports of the gold market in New York at the night hour.

These reports will be bulletined at the "London" and "Louisville" booths, and read from the stage as quick as received.

Thanksgiving day passed off very quietly. The soldiers at the several hospitals in the city and Jeffersonville all enjoyed their dinners heartily, and we are happy to say, everything passed off in the most quiet and appropriate manner. The ladies and gentlemen to whom they are indebted for their most excellent feast, and the interest displayed by them in their behalf, will long be remembered by the soldiers. The day was generally observed by our citizens, all the business houses and military depots were closed, and the good order which prevailed did honor to our city.

THANKS.—Mrs. John McCrory, Miss Ross Dunn and Mrs. John Dunn, of St. Patrick's table at the St. Vincent's Fair, have our thanks for their kind remembrance of us last night in the shape of a splendid supper, which we relished most heartily. Long may the St. Patrick's fair daughters live to remember the orphan and the editor.

The house of Thomas H. Harrison, situated on Jefferson, between Ninth and Tenth streets, was burglariously entered on Wednesday night, by the removal of the shutters, and the thief abstracted therefrom his hat, coat, and clock, and decamped through the same opening.

A large number of refugees mostly women and children, passed up the river Thursday on board the steamer J. H. Baldwin, from Nashville, Tenn. We did not learn their place of destination.

John A. G. Brooks, of Sullivan county, Tennessee, who left Knoxville some six weeks ago, can learn of the whereabouts of his wife by calling at this office.

The Post Silver Band attracted a fine audience of ladies and gentlemen last evening around post headquarters, where they were discoursing delightful music.

Malice at Wood's Theater this afternoon. Edwin Adams appears.

For list of letters see fourth page.

THE STREET RAILROADS IN OPERATION.
The cars of the City Railroad Company were placed on the track Thursday by General Weller, the President of the company, in commemoration of Thanksgiving which was proclaimed by the President of the United States and the Governor of the State. There was the greatest interest manifested by our citizens, and the cars yesterday and the day before were crowded. The road is well laid, and, as far as we could judge, all right. The drivers and conductors are all now and inexperienced, but a few days will suffice to demonstrate the thorough management of Mr. Hager, the managing director and general superintendent. The cars yesterday commenced running regularly from Twelfth to Wenzel streets. The track will soon be completed to the head of Main street, or Beargrass, when the cars will run regularly.

We trust that the rails will be laid to Portland and over our mountains before, checking the whole city, as it will impart a new life and vitality to the place.

The cars are large, spacious and furnished in the very best manner, so that a person can have a pleasant and comfortable ride without being crowded up in a small, dirty omnibus. They glide over the rails smoothly, and a passenger will have to take a ride on them in order to appreciate the great improvement.

We will give a synopsis of the rules and regulations for the conductors and drivers, that our citizens may see the care taken by the company for the accommodation of the public.
